Chapter 9: Entertainment and Hobbies

AI in Streaming Services

Streaming services like Netflix, Hulu, and Amazon Prime Video use artificial intelligence to help you find TV shows and movies that you might enjoy. This technology looks at what you have watched in the past and gathers information about your preferences. For example, if you enjoy heartwarming family dramas, the AI will learn this and suggest similar shows or films that fit your taste. Instead of scrolling endlessly through hundreds of titles, you receive personalized recommendations that feel like they were picked just for you. This can make the
